VALUES-BASED LEADERSHIP SERIES

Successful business practitioners advocate that the best leadership actions are taken through the lens of values and beliefs. Values-based leadership strives for self-reflection to achieve self-awareness, employee motivation by connecting the organizational goals with their values, and continuous communication and the application of organizational values to bring meaning to people's work and the organization's mission.

The Values-Based Leadership Series is designed for individuals who want to strengthen their leadership by aligning their decisions and actions with values and purpose.

Who should attend?

This program is ideal for anyone with current or anticipated management responsibilities, ranging from existing leaders to people expecting to take on leadership roles.

If you are moving into a leadership role, you will receive tools to help develop your leadership style and approach.

If you have already assumed leadership responsibilities, you will benefit from insights on alternative methods that you can adopt to complement your leadership competencies.

Program benefits

- Broaden your leadership range and access tools you can use right away
- Gain a deeper understanding of your leadership capabilities
- Learn how to communicate with confidence and authenticity
- Become more effective at influencing and motivating others
- Obtain insights and best practices for managing teams
- Expand your leadership network
- Achieve active learning through simulations and exercises

Bonus

- Flexible program format
- Compressed learning program to integrate with professional schedules
- High-quality curriculum priced affordably
- Credentialed program by ASPECT BC

Strong leaders, making an impact.

What is Leadership?

Do you know what leadership is or what qualities effective leaders possess? Examine several leadership models and use this frame of reference to craft your leadership perspective.

Authentic leaders know themselves well. Your experiences and life story ground and inspire your leadership, values and personal vision. Explore the concept of "leading from within."

Self-Awareness, Confidence & Values

Trust, Motivation & Recognition

Leaders who inspire trust garner better results, morale, and loyalty from their team. Leaders will learn strategies on how to build trust, motivate and increase employee recognition in the workplace.

Discover the importance of creating a compelling vision and aligning people around a common purpose. Learn how leaders support and embed values throughout an organization.

Leadership within the Organizational Context

Leading for Change

Leaders are confronted with a relentless changing work environment but organizations may not be ready to embrace it. Learn strategies on how to address the resistance to adopting a new way of working.

Leadership matters. This session is the culmination of learnings to date, designed to build your capacity as a leader. Gather practical strategies to develop yourself as a leader over time.

Strong leaders, making an impact.

Prepare

Prepare Monday to Wednesday: Topical resources (e.g., readings, videos) and notes will introduce relevant foundational concepts and helpful tips/strategies for your work.

Join

Join (Wednesday, 12:00 – 12:30 pm Pacific Time): Live 30-minute webinars will provide the opportunity for students to hear directly from the instructor further exploring the topic. Students should watch for the access information to be distributed via the news forum (or email directly from your instructor). If any student is unable to attend live, a webinar recording will be made available for later review.

Discuss

Discuss (Thursday to Saturday): Active engagement in the topical discussion is the students' opportunity to apply their learning, ask for clarification from their instructions, and connect with peers.

Reflect

Reflect (Due Sunday): Throughout each course, students refine their personal view of leadership. In a private blog on the course site, students will share a brief reflection of how their views have been shaped in the course and strategies for implementing learning at work currently or in the future.

These reflections are required for successful series completion and will be particularly helpful in composing the capstone project.
